Message from Bishop Klusmeyer

Dear All:

Earlier, I wrote to the list serve, and said that we could return our books to the pew racks, as long as there is some time between services, and people aren't contaminating them. The fact that I mentioned Prayer Books and Hymnals has given rise to the question about whether we can sing again, in Church. The answer is a resounding, "NO."

Bishop Klusmeyer's message continued.

At this time, we can return the books, because we know more about the transmission factor of the virus. In the early days, it was suggested that it could be transmitted via surface touch. Now, we believe that there is minimal risk of that (thought not 0%) However, we still know that the virus is spread through the air and aerosol.

Therefore, at this time,

.....masks are still required,

.....sanitizing hands is still required,

..... no chalice/no wine during Eucharist,

.....no singing,

.....no passing of the Peace.

I hope this fully answers the ongoing questions.

Mustard Seed Outreach Project

The Parish Outreach Committee has started a project to support the Mustard Seed located on Pike Street next to Southern States over the next couple months. The Mustard Seed offers help to those people in need of food, clothing, and household items. It is supported by numerous churches in Harrison County and is housed in a facility owned by the Catholic Diocese.

If you would like to donate, just bring the donation to church on Sunday or to the Parish House during the week when Beth Ann or Nora are there. If you need somebody to stop by and pick up your donation, just contact Chuck Critchfield. Text or call him at 304-476-2632. If he does not answer, leave him a message.

List of items needed at the Mustard Seed

Food - dry and canned goods

Clothing - new or used from infant to adult

Personal care items

Cleaning supplies

Small household goods, dishes, pots, and pans

Silverware

Towels are especially needed

Sheets, blankets, etc.

Diapers, wipes, baby food, formula

No electronics
